

Let All Together Praise Our God

Melody and original text: Nikolaus Herman (1560)

English text translation: Arthur T. Russell (1851)

Three part setting: Christoph Dalitz (1989)

1. Let all to - ge - ther praise our God up - on his

1. Let all to - ge - ther praise our God up -

1. Let all to - ge - ther praise our God up -

8

5

lo - fty throne. He hath his hea - vens un - closed to - day and on his lo - fty throne. He hath his hea - vens un - closed to - day and 8 on his lo - fty throne. He hath his hea - vens un -

9

gi - ven to us his son, and gi - ven to us his son.

gi - ven to us his son, and gi - ven us his son.

8 closed to - day and gi - ven to us his son, and gi - ven to us his son.

2. He lays aside his majesty and seems as nothing worth, and takes on him a servant's form, who made both heaven and earth.

3. Behold the wonderful exchange our Lord with us doth make!
Lo! He assumes our flesh and blood, we of his heaven partake.

4. The glorious gates of paradise the cherub guards no more.
This day again those gates unfolds. With praise our God adore!

This work is licensed under the Creative Commons Attribution 3.0 Germany License. This means that the work can freely be copied, distributed, performed and recorded without fee. For the full text of the license see <http://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/3.0/de/>.